

Lead from Where You Are: The Practical Art of Making a Difference

Join us for a brown-bag
lecture

Thursday, November 29
12:45 to 1:30 P.M.
Sanchez 468

Dr. Tommy Darwin

Director, Professional Development & Community Engagement
The Graduate School at the University of Texas at Austin

Coming up with a good idea is difficult. Pursuing the idea and getting others to come with you is an art. This session will provide a framework for generating ideas worth pursuing and practical tools for leading from where you are.

Sponsored by:

Stepping Up, Library Leaders for the 21st Century

Come early, stay late, bring lunch, have fun!

For more information on the program and the Blanton Art Museum tour that follows it, visit the Stepping Up website:

<http://www.ischool.utexas.edu/~stepup>