COURSE DESCRIPTION
An introduction to the principles and practice of appraisal, acquisition, preservation, reference service, and administration of institutional and collected archives (record groups) and of archival repositories.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
By the end of the course, students will be able to:
• Understand and evaluate the history, theory, and practice of archival enterprise with regard to handling the documentation (the record) from acquisition to and through use, both in the hardcopy and digital environment
• Understand and analyze classical, contemporary and alternative/emerging models of practice (particularly as it relates to new trends with technology and the processing and management of born digital records)
• Understand and analyze these archival activities in a larger national and international context
• Understand the relationship and the synergy between archives and allied areas (such as digital curation, digital humanities, digital libraries, knowledge management, and digital forensics)
• Understand ethical and legal considerations and culturally responsible approaches to archival work
• Arrange and describe a collection of personal papers or organizational records using appropriate standards (DACS etc.)
• Demonstrate basic competence in data structure standards: Encoded Archival Description (EAD)

PLEASE NOTE: Students enrolled in this class are expected to spend at least 50 hours outside of class time working at a local archival repository. This work will take place over the course of the semester and will involve group processing of previously unarranged and undescribed material.

There is a Canvas website for the class. Class material (including readings) will be available via the site and all assignments should be submitted through Canvas.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND WEIGHTS

1. Arrangement of the Samuel Goudsmit Papers (10% - Due Week 4: Wednesday, September 20, 2017). Digital copies of the Samuel Goudsmit Papers are available through Canvas. Working individually or in groups, you are to formulate an organization for the documents identifying the groupings into which you would place the material. Hand in an outline showing how you have: [A] grouped the materials and [B] ordered the units to five levels below the fonds (subgroups, series, subseries, files, items). In parentheses, indicate the inclusive dates and number of items for each unit of documentation. Below the file level you should also include an item listing of each document. This outline should be submitted to Canvas in electronic format. For additional information about this assignment please see the course guidebook.

2. EAD Finding Aid (10% - Due Week 10: Wednesday, November 1, 2017). The purpose of this assignment is to have you use an XML editor and the EAD DTD, and to connect specific bits of information from the archival inventory with the appropriate EAD elements and attributes. Detailed information about how to complete the EAD assignment can be found in the course guidebook.

3. An essay of 2,000-2,500 words on a day in the life and work of an archivist (10% - Due Week 12: Wednesday, November 15, 2017). The purpose of this assignment is two-fold: (1) to give you insight into the jobs of, the ups and downs of, and the challenges and issues faced by a contemporary archivist, (2) and to give you the opportunity to meet an archivist working in an area of the field about which you would like to learn. For additional information about this assignment please see the course guidebook.

4-7. Processing a body of previously unarranged and undescribed material in an archival repository (60%)

In this assignment, you will work in groups to arrange and describe a collection of personal papers or organizational records using appropriate standards (DACS). Another purpose of the project is to give you an opportunity to work for, and to observe, the staff of a functioning archives. You should plan to spend approximately 50 hours outside of class to complete this assignment. Project assignments will be announced by week two. Prior to this, arrangements will be made for students to receive collection descriptions and students will be given the opportunity to rate their interest in processing these collections for the semester project. While every effort will be made to honor these choices, students will be assigned to other collections if necessary. You will work in groups of 2-4 persons. In completing this assignment, you will produce:
INF 389R: Introduction to Archival Enterprise I

- (4) Appraisal Report and Processing Plan (20% – Due Week 7: Wednesday, October 11, 2017)
- (5) Finding Aid/Inventory (Due Week 11: Wednesday, November 8, 2017)
- (6) Edited/Final Finding Aid (30% - Due Week 15: Wednesday, December 6, 2017)
- (7) EAD Finding Aid (10% - Due Week 15: Wednesday, December 6, 2017)

I will do an on-site visit during week eight on a schedule established by week six. For this meeting, which lasts about an hour and a half, each group is to bring a printed copy of their ARPP (including a written outline of the arrangement - to the file level - proposed for the records). We will discuss the ARPP and the arrangement you have formulated. Along with the written assignments, to fulfill the requirements of the project, after our meeting you are to do the following in the repository: (1) sort the material into the arrangement upon which we have agreed, (2) put it in appropriate housing, and, (3) as time permits, prepare folder labels.

Because the inventory is to be structured in the form prescribed by the repository in which you work, the configuration of the elements may vary from what we discuss in class. If the repository form does not give sufficient opportunity for you to convey all of the information that you think should be presented, or if it requires you to present your data in a way that you feel differs markedly from the generic format used in this class, attach a supplementary document to the inventory that you hand in explaining how you would have done the work had you been able to structure the inventory in the manner you thought appropriate. The goal is to demonstrate that you are well grounded in the kinds of and distinctions between kinds of information essential to a good archival inventory. These assignments are to be turned in via Canvas.

Evaluation: Giving appropriate credit for individual contribution to group projects is difficult since the instructor can have little knowledge of the day-to-day functioning of each group. To facilitate accurate grading of the project, I ask that at the end of the semester each student submit (via Canvas) a confidential memo crediting each member of the group, including yourself, with a percentage of contribution to the whole. The percentages must total 100. In addition, you should comment upon the work of any group member whose outstanding performance should be recognized or whose failure to contribute appropriately to the work of the group has affected the product of the group on which all are graded. Finally, you should describe any challenges that arose in the process of working as a group (coordination, motivation, effort etc.), and the strategies you utilized to address these issues. As appropriate, these observations will be considered in assigning the class participation grade.

Additional information about how to complete this assignment can be found in the course guidebook.

8. Class attendance and participation (10%)
INF 389R: Introduction to Archival Enterprise I

Regular attendance and active participation are critical for receiving a good grade in this course. Attendance will be taken during each class period. Absences will only be excused in situations following university policy (illness, religious holy days, participation in University activities at the request of university authorities, and compelling absences beyond your control). Absences should be accompanied by timely notification (prior to class for non-emergencies) and proper documentation. If a class is missed the student should submit a 500 to 750-word review of the week’s readings in lieu of attendance. This document should be emailed to me prior to the next week’s class. In grading for class participation, I will take into consideration attendance, each individual’s contribution to class discussions, use of the resources posted to Canvas, and engagement with the process of working on the practicum assignment.

PLEASE NOTE: Assignments should be submitted to Canvas by 8 am on the due date. I will use the following schedule as the basis for calculating grades: A = 95-100, A- = 89-94, B+ = 84-88, B = 79-83, B- = 74-79, C+ = 69-73, C = 64-68, C- = 60-63, F = <60. Please note that given the nature of the course it is generally not possible to grant extensions for assignments. For each 24 hours that an assignment is late, ten percent of the possible points will be deducted from the score. Assignments will not be accepted more than 6 days past the due date.
